Plates.
Individual plates for table use were unknown to the ancients, who held their meat in their hands or employed the flat wheaten cakes then made on which to hold their victuals. They are first mentioned in A. D. 600 as used by the luxurious on the continent, and in the ninth century they had come into common use both in England and on the continent. They were made of wood or some kind of earthenware, the former material being preferred because it did not dull the knives.

The Saturnalia.
The saturnalia was a midwinter feast of the Romans in honor of Saturn, beginning on Dec. 17. On this occasion great license was given to every one to do what he pleased, and even the slaves were permitted much liberty of speech and action. All work was suspended, the houses and temples were decorated, congratulations were exchanged and presents sent as with us at Christmas.

Better Be Careful.
A sporting paper recommends a certain way of avoiding the bites of a dog, however savage. All one has to do is to stand perfectly still and hold one's hand out. The dog, says the writer, will take the hand into his mouth, but will not bite it. But what guarantee have we that the dog knows this?—London Globe.

Differences of Opinion.
"Women are hard to understand," said the callow philosopher.
"Not at all," answered Mr. Meekton.
"Henrietta has never yet spoken her mind to me without making herself perfectly clear."—Washington Star.

PUBLIC SALE —OF— LAND!

BOURBON CIRCUIT COURT.
James E. Kern's Assignee, Etc., Plaintiff,

vs.
James E. Kern, Etc.,
Defendants.
Order of Sale.

As assignee of James E. Kern and pursuant to order of sale in the above-titled action, I will, on Monday, Feb. 5, 1906, at about the hour of 1:30 o'clock p. m. at the front door of the Court House in Paris, Kentucky, expose to public sale two tracts of land lying in Bourbon County, Kentucky, on the Paris and Jackson turnpike, described as follows:

Tract No. 1. Beginning at the point of intersection of the east margin of the Cane Ridge and Parker's Mill turnpike and north margin of the Paris and Jackson turnpike, and 9 feet from its corner post, etc. (see hand-bills), containing forty-one acres and one rood.

Tract No. 2. Beginning at a locust post, at point of intersection of the Paris and Jackson and Parker's Mill turnpike, etc. (see hand-bills), containing fifty-eight acres and three roods of land.

Said lands will be offered separately and as a whole and the bid or bids aggregating the most money will be accepted.

The first tract has thereon a substantial two-room stone house, met house ce house, young orchard and good water. The second tract is well watered, and both are in good state of cultivation.

TERMS.—Said sale will be made upon credits of 6 and 12 months, the purchasers to execute bonds to the undersigned, with good surety to be approved by the undersigned, of even date with the sale, with interest from date at 6 per cent. Upon confirmation of sale, purchasers may pay cash.

Salt, the Civilizer.
The use of salt as a necessary supplement to diet has had much influence in shaping the civilization and exploration of the world. It is most probable that the oldest trade routes were created for the salt traffic, as salt and incense formed the chief necessities of the ancient days. This was certainly the case with the caravan routes in Libya and the Sahara, while the mines of north India were the center of a large trade before the time of Alexander.

Another interesting fact is that salt has played a considerable part in the distribution of man. When it became absolutely necessary to him, as it did at an early stage of his development, he was forced to migrate to places where it could be obtained. This brought him to the seashore, where he gained his ideas of maritime commerce.
Lastly, the preservative effects of salt on flesh food made long oceanic voyages possible and thus opened up the world to commerce and civilization.

How Cowards Were Punished.
Many of the devices by which military indifference to life has been matured and sustained are curious. In ancient Athens the public temples were closed to those who refused military service, who deserted their ranks or lost their bucklers, while a law constrained such offenders to sit for three days in the public forum dressed in the garments of women. Many a Spartan mother would stab her son who came back alive from a defeat, and such a man, if he escaped his mother, was debarr'd not only from public offices, but from marriage, exposed to the blows of all who chose to strike him, compelled to dress in mean clothing and to wear his beard negligently trimmed. In the same way a horse soldier who fled or lost his shield or received a wound in any save the front part of the body was by law prevented from ever afterward appearing in public.

The First Electric Train.
The earliest public trial of a passenger boat driven by an electric motor was that conducted by Professor Jacobi of St. Petersburg in the year 1838, though for four years previously he had successfully experimented with electric traction in the privacy of his own grounds. The trial of Jacobi's vessel took place on the Neva and was witnessed by a vast crowd of people.
The boat was twenty-eight feet long and ten feet wide and carried fourteen persons.

It was not until four years later that we find any record of a passenger carriage driven by electricity on land, and in this case the inventor was Alexander Davidson of Edinburgh. The carriage was sixteen feet long by seven feet wide and was impelled for a mile and a half at the rate of four miles an hour on the Edinburgh and Glasgow railway.

The Game of the Sheep.
Among the gypsies of Bosnia there is a curious game called "the game of the sheep."

You know they skin a sheep or goat in the east by dragging the skin off whole over its head. This skin the Bosnians drip and grease most carefully. Then they tie up the four legs and the neck and blow it full of air, so that it looks like a very greasy, badly shaped sheep. This is thrown in the middle of a ring, and each man in turn jumps on it with bare feet until one succeeds in bursting it. The lucky one then gets a purse. Such a funny sight as it is to see them jump and sprawl, for of course if they do not strike it at just the right angle they slip on the greasy surface as if it were a toboggan slide and go sprawling.

Dying of Famine is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm.

Myers, of Cearfoss, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain, I at last took Dr.
King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me. Prompt re-
